* When the first home district council met in Toronto on the 8th of February, 1842, it included the following townships: Adjala, Albion, Brock, Caledon, Chinguacousy, Essa, Etobicoke, Georgianna, Three Gwillimburys, Innisfil, King, Mara and Rama, Markham, Mulmur and Tossorontio, Medonte and Floss, two Orillias, Oro, Pickering, Reach, Scarboro', Tecumseh, Thorah, Tiny and Tay, Toronto, Toronto Gore, Uxbridge and Scott, Vaughan, Vespra, Whitby, Whitechurch and York. In addition to these, in 1840 the Western boundary line included all between Owen Sound and Garafraxa, and the Eastern boundary line extended from the township line between Whitby and Darlington, as far north as the Severn River.

And for preserving and perpetuating such historical recollections and incidents, documents, and pictorial illustrations relating to early settlement of the country as are worthy of being rescued from oblivion; and by contribution of communications on these and kindred subjects to be read at the meetings of the Society, and, when desirable, published in the Annual Report.

2. This Society shall consist of a President, five Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, Treasurer, and a Registrar, with a Managing Committee consisting of Chairman and five members elected from the Society, together with the officers of the Society.

6. Honorary members may be elected on the recommendation of the Managing Committee, but shall not be entitled to vote or hold office.

7. A general meeting of the Society shall be held annually, on the first Tuesday in March, for the reception of the financial report (the financial year ending on the 31st of December), and the report of the Managing Committee, who will submit their nomination of officers for the ensuing year, and any other report that they may have to lay before the Society.

8. The Society shall hold ordinary meetings for the despatch of business and fraternal intercourse on the first Tuesday in each month, at the hour of three o'clock p.m., when the presence of seven members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum.

LATE REV. HENRY SCADDING, D.D.,
PRESIDENT YORK PIONEER AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY,
1880-1898.

President's Address

This being the Fortieth Anniversary of the York Pioneer and Historical Society, it has been decided to make this Annual Report a "Memorial Volume" by including the photos of the early officers of the Society, in addition to those who have passed away during the last year.

The first meeting of our Society was held on the 17th of April, 1869, in the old Mechanics' Institute building, corner of Church and Adelaide Streets. The writer has been connected with the Society since February, 1879. At that time there were over three hundred names on the list of members, all of which have passed over to the great majority, except Dr. Canniff, who was elected an honorary member in April, 1872. He is now 78 years of age. During the past year fifteen members have been translated to their Eternal home. The following are the names and dates of their deaths: Charles March, died 17th April, 1908; Peter Patterson, May 3rd, 1908; Jonathan Slater, May 20th, 1908; A. McL. Howard, May 22nd, 1908; Joseph Collard, May 30th, 1908; Charles Cooper, June 7th, 1908; John Nunn, June 10th, 1908; Harry A. Collins, June 20th,

LATE ALFRED WILLSON, P.L.S.,
FOURTH VICE-PRESIDENT YORK PIONEER AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

1908; Walter H. Blight, June 27th, 1908; Rev. Canon Baldwin, July 15th, 1908; George Coleman, Nov. 25th, 1908; Charles E. Kyle, December 27th, 1908; George Jackson, Jan. 6th, 1909; John Small, February 10th, 1909; Philip Jamieson, Feb. 20th, 1909. While the number of deaths is larger than usual, yet the number is small, considering that we now have a membership of eight hundred, many of whom are over threescore and ten years, several exceeding fourscore and ten. During the past year there were two hundred and eighty-four new members added to our Society.

The monthly meetings have been exceedingly interesting, and the addresses have been above the average from a historical point of view.

There was a large gathering of Pioneers and their wives at the "Log Cabin" on the Exhibition grounds on "Pioneer Day," August 28th. For want of room the meeting was held in the open air, from 12 to 1 p.m., after which adjournment was made to lunch. A procession was formed, led by the Winnipeg Brass Band. Geo. Gooderham, M.P.P., took several of the oldest Pioneers in his handsome automobile, which was quite a contrast from the old ox-wagon. After lunch there were addresses by the Hon. Thos. Crawford, M.P.P., Mayor Oliver, and J. O. Orr, Manager of Canadian National Exhibition, and others. Ex-Ald. Score led the singing.

LATE REV. C. E. THOMSON, M.A.,
PRESIDENT YORK PIONEER AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY, 1898-1903.

LATE ALFRED E. HAYTER,
REGISTRAR YORK PIONEER AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY, 1903-1907.

For the want of a fire-proof building, the York Pioneer and Historical Society are unable to make a satisfactory exhibit of their large collection of old relics on the Exhibition Grounds—many valuable articles, which if destroyed by fire or otherwise could never be replaced. Although plans of a suitable building have been prepared for over a year, nothing more has been done. Our Pioneers are a long-suffering people. If a suitable building is provided, the Pioneers will make an exhibit, free of cost, that will be one of the principal attractions of the Canadian National Exhibition.

In conclusion, might I take this opportunity of thanking the officers and members of the York Pioneer and Historical Society for the many kindnesses I have received during the past thirty years while connected with the Society, and especially during the past five and a half years while acting as President. I have now to retire on account of my physical condition.

Members' Certificate

All members in good standing are entitled to a beautiful colored Lithograph Certificate (18 x 24 inches). If you have not already received one, write the Secretary, Rev. H. S. Matthews, 5 Chicora Ave., Toronto, answering the following questions: Name and address in full, date when born, place where born, date joining Society.

Secretary's Report

The historian naturally requires to go back and see the changes that have taken place and then follow them up to the present time.

Up to 1759 the French claimed the whole of Canada, and endeavored to get possession of the Eastern and Central Provinces, of what now comprise a large portion of the United States; but in 1759 Montcalm was defeated by the heroic and noble General Wolfe, and Quebec fell into the hands of the British, who have held undisputed title ever since. Then came the angry dispute of the Eastern and Southern Provinces over the question of being taxed without their consent, culminating in the so-called "Tea Party" in Boston Harbor, leading to the Revolutionary War, and which ended in the United States achieving their independence. But there were a large number of Britons who felt humiliated that they were not under the British flag. Ten thousand left and came to the Maritime Provinces, while 20,000 came to Upper Canada. These were the noble U. E. Loyalists, whose name will ever be fragrant and whose memory will always remain green.

In 1792 General Simcoe was appointed Governor of Upper Canada, and held his first Parliament at Newark (now Niagara-on-the-Lake). The Upper House consisted of 7 appointed members, and the Lower House of 16 elected members. This unpretentious Parliament passed some of the most important legislation. They enacted the adoption of the Civil Law of England and Trial by Jury; the division of the Province into Districts and the erection of a Court House and Gaol in each District; the abolition of slavery in Upper Canada. The soil of Upper Canada was free to every man—white and black alike. In 1793 Gov. Simcoe had the Capital changed from Newark to York (now Toronto), and had the town laid out on a large scale. Before these events many adventurous persons had come into the new territory, now the County of York. Who can ever forget such names as the Sherwoods, McIllderrys, Henderson (who was a great-uncle of mine), Merritts, Ryerson, Gamble, Davis, Richardson, Baldwin, Boulton, Rose, Price, Lamb, Playters, Jessopps, and scores of others?—names that are imperishable—names that will live forever in the annals of the County of York and Province of Ontario.

During the year we have been favored with excellent addresses. On the 2nd of June, Henry O'Brien, Esq., K.C., gave a stirring address on "Simcoe County." Then on the 6th of October the Hon. E. J. Davis gave a splendid address on "The Pioneers of York." On the 1st of December the venerable Dr. Geikie gave a masterly address on the "Development of Medicine," and what medical schools were in the early days of Toronto. On the 5th of January the Rev. Dr. Abraham gave a good address reminiscent of early Toronto, and on the 2nd of February Mrs. (Rev.) Dr. Abraham gave one of the finest addresses ever given to the York Pioneers, on the "History of the Playter Family." These addresses, from an historical standpoint, with the facts and figures given, must have an excellent educative effect on this country.

During the year the Reaper, Death, has been busy, and many in our ranks have fallen. "Man goes to his long home and the mourners go about the streets." "Or the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern." "Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it." "The minor chord has been struck, and the song sung in minor key."

Amidst the fleecy clouds of April, betokening sunshine and showers, that prince of decorators, Charles March, died on the 17th of that month. Then on the 3rd of May that veteran hardware merchant, Capt. Peter Patterson, received the summons and went to his eternal state. Then on the 20th of May, Jonathan Slater, the model farmer, and long the Reeve of Markham, was translated from the lower to the higher realm. On the 22nd of May, A. McLean Howard, the Senior Division Court Clerk of the Province of Ontario, yielded to the call and went to meet his God, your God and my God. Then, on the 30th of May, Joseph Collard, a king in the meat supply, suddenly received the call, and without a moment's warning was ushered into the great eternity. Then on the 7th of June, Charles R. Cooper, a son of the Parsonage and of the late Rev. H. C. Cooper, for years Rector of Etobicoke, a scholarly and an able man. On the 10th of June the fearless and heroic John Nunn was called away. Then on the 20th of June, amidst the gathering of fragrant hay, the silver-tongued Harry A. Collins listened to the voice of God and passed away. On the 27th of June, when the air was balmy and laden with perfume, amidst the songs of birds and the abundance of flowers, Walter H. Blight was called from labor to refreshment, and passed on to those mansions "whence all goodness emanates." Then on the 15th of July the beautiful and tender-spirited Rev. Canon Baldwin was called from the dusky hues of earth to the home, kingdom and eternal glory of Heaven. On the 23rd of November, George Coleman, a man noble and true, exchanged mortality for immortality. Then on the 27th of December the noble, true, pure and faithful Charles E. Kyle was called away and entered within the veil, the glory there to see, and abide with God, angels and the glorified forever. On the 6th of January, when the snow was deep and the winds cold, the pure and saintly George Jackson was taken, to be forever with the Lord. Then on February 10th, John Small, for many years an active church worker, and for many years a Customs House Officer, exchanged time for eternity.

It was the privilege of several York Pioneers to attend many of these funerals, blend our sorrows with the sorrows of those whose loved ones were taken, and show our sympathy for them in the dark and sad hour of bereavement, sadness and death.

The York Pioneers are in a wonderfully strong and healthy condition. Last year we had a membership of 551; this year we have added 284, making a total membership on our books of 815. But the books require revision, and several names will have to come off.

It is true that we have been disappointed by the Board of Control and the Exhibition Board, but let us look to a bright future and with a brave heart, and all of us, as one man, keep the object in view until its grand realization. We have done important work, which must tell for good on the rising generation; we have the largest country and the best land under Heaven; we have lakes, rivers, minerals and forests, the greatest of any nation. May we not say with Joaquin Miller:—

"O seas in a land, O lakes of mine,
By the love I bear and the songs I bring,
Be glad with me. Lift your waves and sing
A song of joy, for the sun that smiles,
For this land I love and this age and sign,
For the peace that is and the perils passed,
For the hope that is and the rest at last."

York Pioneers, be true, be brave, be good! Love Canada with intensest devotion—This Canada, the free; this Canada is good enough for me. May the time come when we shall have a redundant population, noted for law, order and goodness, and may we say, "God save our noble King, and abundantly bless the Fatherland, and may our noble Dominion live forever."

SYNOPSIS OF ADDRESS

“North York and Simcoe”

By Henry O'Brien, Esq., K.C.

He had been under the impression that the York Pioneers were an aged, infirm and decrepit body of men, but is glad to find a great deal of life, activity and power. He came from the county of Simcoe, but knows that the county of York embraced a large portion of the Province of Ontario. The original county of York extended east to the boundary line between Whitby and Darlington Township, west nearly to Ingersoll, and north to the Great Lakes. It embraced the north. Lake Simcoe

DANIEL LAMB, Esq.,
PRESENT PRESIDENT YORK PIONEER AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

has had several names, such as Conouza, Winterbottom, Lake La Clay, etc. It took its present name from Governor Simcoe—a name that will cling to it while Canadian history lives. All around the lake is a ridge, averaging fifty feet in height. It is thought that in the early days there was connection between Lakes Simcoe and Huron. There were several villages on this road, such as Marie, St. Ignace and St. Jean Baptiste. This whole section of country was inhabited by a tribe of Huron Indians, but in 1648 were turned out of their homes by the warlike Iroquois. They captured one Brabooth, whom they cruelly tortured, tore his heart out, and drank his blood. In 1688 the great and brave La Salle was brutally murdered by his own people, while on his way to discover the great river of the West. Governor Simcoe crossed Lake Simcoe in 1793. Up to that time the old birch-bark canoe was the only vessel that cleaved the blue waters of the lake. Materials had to be forwarded to Penetanguishene, which was a naval station, among other things a huge anchor, drawn by sixteen yoke of oxen, but stopped at Holland Landing, on the declaration of peace, and is now in the park at Holland Landing. In those days there was no Barrie, no Orillia, no village or town. The meaning of Penetanguishene is "Rolling Sand." It has seen a great many distinguished travellers—Governor Simcoe, John Gough Vaughan, etc. His mother describes the joy of the Indians at the distribution of presents; how they were so thrilled as to scarcely contain themselves. There was the old steamer Beaver, that plied across the lake. In 1820 they began to survey the townships. The surveyors were led by Samuel Lount, afterwards Registrar, and Mr. Chewitt, afterwards famous as a banker. At Tollendale the old mill was built, and from there the people crossed to the other shore on batteux, barges, etc. Kempenfelt was the first village. Backwood life in these days was no picnic. No person can ever tell what heroines the women were in those days. His father was a naval officer, and had seen service in China, India, etc. He was appointed magistrate. His duty was to marry the people, whip the people when necessary, and maintain order. It was hard work to perform these duties. The settlement at Shanty Bay was erected in 1831, and consisted of three shanties. As a magistrate my father took his notebook wherever he went, and often had to dispense justice on the spot. These were the men—good men, strong men—the men who built up the country, and they and their wives should never be forgotten.

LATE CHARLES MARCH.

LATE CAPT. PETER PATERSON.

SYNOPSIS OF ADDRESS

“Early Times in Ontario”By the Hon. E. J. Davis.

Mr. Davis expressed his pleasure and satisfaction at being elected a York Pioneer. His grandfather Davis was living in Carolina at the time of Revolutionary War, and after the war, when the United States achieved their independence, had no desire to live in that country. He loved the old land and revered the British flag. He was a U.E. Loyalist, and when he came to this country Governor Simcoe despatched a gunboat to the mouth of the Genesee River to bring two families (the Davis' and Ghent's) to York—now Toronto—in 1793. They settled in the township of York, on Yonge Street, nearly opposite Finch's Tavern. There he was born fifty-six years ago, and there his father built and operated the first tannery in Ontario. The Ghent family afterwards moved to Burlington, and exerted a wide influence for the general good.

There is another side to the family history—the Pease family. His grandfather Pease came to this country in 1810, and in 1814 superintended the erection of the old barracks on Queen Street West. His grandfather was also a school teacher, and, believing that every person should do something for the general good, would not take any portion, but taught the children gratuitously. Mr. Davis paid a glowing tribute to school teachers, whose influence in moulding the young mind is as far-reaching as eternity, and who do their noble and self-denying work for the least remuneration of any profession. His grandfather was not only a school teacher, but a conveyancer, and for years did most of the conveyancing in the township of York. He also endeavored to settle disputes among neighbours and make everything peaceable and pleasant. He was also Township Superintendent of Schools and Township Treasurer. By comparing the educational system of those days with the present, we see a vast difference in the times. In those days the superintendent issued certificates for teaching, made out the grants for schools and paid the trustees. He also felt that there should be free schools, and in imagination saw the time when every child should have a good common school education, whether able to pay for it or not. It is an important thing to have good ancestors. He (Mr. Davis) had done his best in his business pursuits, in municipal organization and parliamentary life, to develop the life of the country. Robert Baldwin had given us our municipal institutions; but what marvellous strides had been made since that time! In the old times, if people saw the roads blocked they would turn out and shovel the snow or drain off the water and make the roads passable, without remuneration; now they must be paid in dollars and cents.

The change in intoxicating liquors is marvellous. In the old times there could not be a logging bee, marriage, baptism or gathering of almost any kind without the use of liquor; now rarely used on similar occasions. In the old days no roads, no transportation facilities; now every convenience, and when we compare what people do to-day with what our fathers did and endured, our forefathers were heroic.

LATE JONATHAN SLATER.

LATE ALLAN McLEAN HOWARD.

SYNOPSIS OF ADDRESS

"Medicine in Early Days in Toronto"By Dr. Geikie.

He thought it would be absurd to say anything about microbes, since men of science say that we are full of them from the hair of the head to the toe. His father was a minister, and preached in Sarnia and Toronto, and designed the son for business. One evening his sister (Mrs. Gaviller) said, "Walter, would you not like to be a doctor of medicine?" and he said "Yes." That night it was settled that he would take up the medical profession. In a few days he was ushered into the college, which was a lean-to shack, about 13 feet by 6 or 7 feet, while on the other side of the partition a cow was kept. Drs. Howitt, Thos. Parker, W. T. Aikens and others, who shed such a brilliancy on the profession, were graduated from this college. Drs. Rolph and Widmer were the principal lecturers. Dr. Rolph regularly lectured on three subjects—viz., surgery, anatomy and medicine—and sometimes on even a fourth subject. Dr. Rolph commenced his institutional work in the '30's. He took part in the Rebellion, and necessarily had to go to the United States, for there was a reward of $2,000 for his head. He remained there until amnestied in 1843, when he returned to Toronto, and took up again medical lecturing. In 1855 there were only two holding degrees from this institution, Drs. Howitt and Richardson. Dr. Rolph impressed on his students the importance of thoroughness, and to be certain of every bone and blood-vessel in the human body. There has never been such a lecturer in Toronto.

LATE JOSEPH COLLARD.

LATE CHARLES R. COOPER.

Dr. Widmer, Associate Lecturer, came to Canada with his regiment in 1812, and practised medicine. He stood at the top of the medical profession in this city. In 1819 he was a member of the Medical Council, and Chairman from 1823 to 1859, the year in which he died. He was a gentleman—was a total abstainer, neither using whiskey or tobacco. He was always neatly dressed, as if he had just come out of a band-box. His death was sad. The son had died, and the father went to the cemetery to see the grave, when he fainted, and from which he never rallied, but the next morning, at six o'clock, passed away to his eternal state and condition.

After Dr. Geikie had resigned from Trinity College Medical School, where he had been Dean of the Faculty for thirty-two years, he went to Detroit for a visit. Scores of his old students gathered around him, and tendered him a magnificent banquet. They said complimentary things of him and his thoroughness in teaching, and, while occupying leading positions in Detroit, gave Dr. Geikie's ability and teaching credit for the positions that they have.

SYNOPSIS OF ADDRESS.

"An Interesting Family"By Mrs. (Rev.) Dr. Abraham.

It is a matter for congratulation that there has been such a marked revival of interest in the early history of our fair Canada during the last few years. The formation of the Women's Historical Societies in different centres is doing much to instruct our youth in the traditions of the past. After all, we live so little in the present. Our to-days are filled with thoughts of yesterdays, and he who would rob us of our memories would leave us poor indeed.

Our Canadian youth have a goodly heritage in the history of the heroism and perseverance of our soldiers in the unnatural war with the Americans during the years of 1812-15—victorious against tremendous difficulties and fearful odds. We do well to perpetuate the memory of such valiant men.

Patriotism is a noble sentiment, which in this commercial age is in danger of dying; but it should not be so, for we must with reverent hands draw aside the curtain which shrouds the past, that it may be kept alive by the view of the brave, and good, and true, that have left their impress upon the foundation of the fairest country upon which the sun shines. Longfellow says, "We may build more splendid habitations, fill our rooms with paintings, sculpture, but we cannot buy with gold the old associations."

At the close of the American Revolution the condition of the Loyalist party was pitiful in the extreme, especially so in the case of those who had taken a conspicuous part in the King's cause. Many were men of wealth, who found their families ostracized and treated with contempt, themselves insulted, robbed and their lives menaced.

Of two alternatives—to take the oath of allegiance to the Republic or to come away penniless—they chose the latter, not only leaving behind their lands, invested capital in various kinds of business, but often large sums of money owing them, which they had tried in vain to collect through the courts.

The names traitors, Tories, were given in contempt, and in one of the public school histories of the United States they were called on their departure a "weeping band of pilgrims."

*The sympathy of both political parties in England was aroused, and preparations were made for their reception in Canada, and £3,000,000 was voted by the British Parliament for the indemnification of these United Empire Loyalists. About the year 1776 the population of Canada West was less than 2,000 Europeans, and in 1778 it was increased to 10,000.

Canada West was an almost trackless forest of magnificent timber, with few roads, and these United Empire Loyalists bravely undertook a life of peril and hardship, of wrestling with the forest, of isolation and loneliness, for principle and fine patriotism seldom equalled in the world's history.

We have frequent mention of the name of Playter. (I regret that there is not more of interest or incident in this short summary.)

George Playter was born in the town of Wapping, on the Thames, in the county of Surrey, England, on February 18th, 1736. Perhaps prompted by an adventurous spirit, he sailed to America and settled in the State of New Jersey, where he married, in the year 1765, Elizabeth Welding, who was born in the township of Nottingham, Burlington, West Jersey. Elizabeth Welding belonged to the Society of Friends, or Quakers, and her husband, Geo. Playter, joined this religious denomination.

To this couple were born ten children—five sons and five daughters.

When the disaffection of the American colonists broke out into open rebellion, George Playter (as he delighted to relate, in his after years, in his own sprightly way) could not be restrained by the peaceful tenets of the Society, but stripped off the distinctive garb, saying, "Lie there, Quaker," and, arrayed in soldier's apparel, rendered efficient service to the Crown. The rank of Captain was conferred upon him for securing and preserving valuable papers and delivering them safely into the hands of the British Government.

He was the owner of a considerable tract of land in the city of Philadelphia, part of which is known to-day as Fairmount Park. At the close of the Revolution the land owned by Captain Playter was bought by agents for the family of Napoleon Bonaparte, to whose intrigue between England and the United States was largely due the war of 1812.†

Together with many of the United Empire Loyalists, the Playter family took the long and toilsome journey to Canada, remaining in Kingston for a few years.

About the time of the arrival of Governor Simcoe and the founding of York as capital of Canada West, Captain Playter came to this place, and was granted, according to old records, extensive tracts of land.

LATE WALTER H. BLIGHT.

LATE CANON BALDWIN.

They are spoken of, also, as "original landowners of the township of York." The patents for the grants of land from the Crown were issued on August 24th, 1796, in the township, and were as follows:—

This is the first entry on page I in the records of the home district. (It will be remembered that there was no organization as yet, even at York.)

Park lot 8 to George Playter—200 acres. The present boundaries of this lot are— On the south, Queen Street; on the west, Yonge Street; north, Bloor Street; and about Sherbourne Street on the east. The square upon which the Metropolitan Church stands was part of this lot. The south 40 acres of this lot was sold on the 17th of June, 1790, to John Magill, Commissioner of Stores, for the sum of £56 5s., or about $7 00 an acre. It will be noticed that this date is three years before the founding of York or the permanent arrival of Simcoe. This is the first transfer of property in the home district.

Just north of park lot No. 8 was lot 20 (200 acres—George Playter), extending from Yonge Street on the west, Bloor Street on the south, eastward to the old Don Mills Road. This grant contained the Rosedale district, with its beautiful ravines, also Don Flats and Castle Frank Hills.

Next we have, just north of this, lot 17 (not adjoining the previous), 200 acres to John Playter, extending from Yonge on the west to the 2nd concession on the east. This lot includes Moore Park.

Next we have lot 11, to James Playter, 200 acres, extending immediately north of Danforth Road from the 2nd to 3rd concessions. A small block of this land is still in possession of the descendants of George Playter.

Immediately north of this, lot 12, 200 acres to Eli Playter, extending from 2nd to 3rd concession—a total of 1,000 acres in all. About the corner of Yonge and Bloor Streets a small settlement sprang up, which was called Playterville. The population of Yonge Street at this time was 13 men, 9 women and 35 children.

Exchanges were made between the brothers before many years, and James Playter removed to the north up as far as Richmond Hill.

Captain Playter's home was built just north of Governor Simcoe's residence, "Castle Frank," and between Governor Simcoe and Captain Playter sprang up an intimate friendship, which lasted until the removal of the popular Governor, and afterward a regular correspondence was kept up between Lady Simcoe and his daughters and grand-daughters; many gifts were interchanged also between them. Shortly after settling at Castle Frank, Captain Playter returned for a visit to England, where he was granted an annuity by the Crown for service during the Revolution.

His personal appearance has been thus described in different memoirs (Dr. Carroll, page 130). He was known for giving precise attention to his dress and person. He is described as often walking down the oblique waggon track from the Don Flats on Sunday morning to church services, with his wife, looking like a couple of old-fashioned pictures. The Captain, dressed in the costume of an unofficial citizen of George III.—three-cornered hat, silver knee-buckles, broad-tied shoes and large necktie, always carefully arranged, white stockings, and gold-headed cane of unusual length; his wife with scoop bonnet, kerchief on her shoulders, and these always of the best material.

Dr. Scadding publishes two letters written by Mr. George Playter to Mr. McGill:—

"River Don, Sept. 24th, 1796.

"Respected Friend,—If the buckwheat that is growing at Castle Frank is to be disposed of, I shall be willing to buy it. It will be ripe in a few days, and as thou art going from home it may suit to have it secured before thou returnest, or it will be lost. Be pleased to send answer by the bearer, Serjeant Lydan.

"I am thine respectfully,

"GEORGE PLAYTER."

It will be noticed that letters were sent by personal delivery. No post office stamps issued.

Another letter also addressed to Mr. McGill:—

"Respected Friend,—Serjeant Lydan informs me thou art desirous I should sled some boards from Skinner's Mill to Castle Frank. If I do, thou must pay me one-quarter of a dollar for every hundred feet, not exceeding one inch thick, which I may sled, which is the customary price, and really it is worth it.

"I am thine to serve,

Overlooking the Don a plot of ground was set apart for a family burying ground—it is believed that this plot is where the residence of A. E. Kemp now stands—where, after passing years of peace and plenty,

LATE GEORGE COLEMAN.

LATE CHARLES E. KYLE.

George Playter was buried in the year 1822 (died May 15th), with different members of his family. His wife, Elizabeth, died May 14th, 1824. They were much respected, and aided greatly in the development of the country. If virtue is the best contribution to the State, then this man gave much of the best.

Some of the offices held by the Playter family are as follows:—

One of the oldest records of the home district contains abstracts of the assessments for the town of York and township of York, February, 1798, showing returns by Thos. Barry and George Playter.

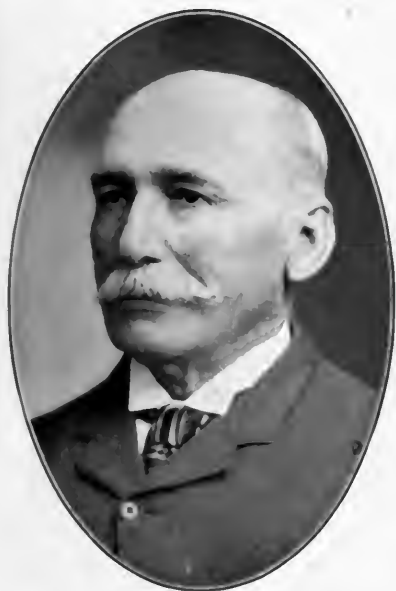

"July, 1799. Assessor, Geo. Playter."

Abstracts of the town clerk's returns of inhabitants in the home district on Yonge Street—13 men, 9 women and 35 children. Town clerk, Eli Playter. Assessors, Jas. Playter and Simon McNab. Overseer of highways, John Playter. Town clerk for Whitchurch, King, and the Gwillimburys, Jas. Playter; 1804 to 1806, Eli Playter.

The youngest son, George, filled the post of deputy sheriff of the home district.

Eli, another son, represented the North Riding of York in Parliament for some years. Down to the year 1867 we find the name of R. E. Playter acting as officer in the county council. (Copied from an old atlas in the possession of Mrs. Richard Playter.)

James, son, married Miss Langstaff, removed to the north part of the county of York, where his son James carried on a lucrative business in lumbering and farming. He was the parent of seven sons and two daughters.

LATE GEORGE JACKSON.

LATE JOHN SMALL.

To Dr. Edward Playter, grandson of James, the community owe a debt of gratitude for his efforts in the cause of establishing the different boards of health; also the present outdoor treatment of tuberculosis was dear to his heart.

John, son, married Sarah Ellerbeck, of Kingston, also a United Empire Loyalist, and became the parent of three sons and four daughters.

Mary Playter, daughter, married Mr. Ward, of Port Hope, and became the parent of the family of Wards, who still reside there. A great-grandson of Mary is much to the public eye, viz., Lieut.-Col. Victor Williams, of Stanley Barracks.

John Playter gave from his land a suitable lot upon which to build an English church, which was known as the Church of St. Barnabas. The first incumbent was the scholarly Dr. Beven; succeeding him came Rev. Dr. Strong; later, Rev. Mr. Rutten. This church remained in its quaint beauty until last year, when it was removed within the city limits.

There are residing in and about the city of Toronto many of the descendants of Captain Playter to the sixth generation.

Their love of reading was marked, and in many old letters looked over were found numerous and copious quotations of poetry, showing the knowledge and love of literature, which must have made them ill at ease in the woods.

Charles March

The late Mr. March was born in Toronto 57 years ago, and died April 17th, 1908. He was a pioneer in the Labor movement, and was elected President of the first Trades and Labor Congress held in this city in 1883, and also at the Congresses held in 1886 and 1887. When a boy he was apprenticed to Mr. O'Connor, who had begun his own career under Mr. March's father. He continued with Mr. O'Connor until his election as an International officer—some forty years in all. He became a member of the York Pioneers on April 7th, and died April 17th. He was one of the founders of the Technical School, and during the existence of the Technical School Board was its presiding officer, and also served on several important Committees. He was seized with that dreaded malady, heart failure, while at Montreal in the interests of the cause of labor, and quietly passed away.

Capt. Peter Paterson

Was one of Toronto's old citizens, being born in this city on the 3rd of May, 1831. He was the grandson of Peter Paterson, who came to Toronto (then York) in 1817 from Blantyre, Scotland, and who founded the well-known hardware firm of Peter Paterson & Son. Capt. Paterson took a deep interest in military matters, and organized at his own expense No. 5 Company. During the visit to Toronto of the Prince of Wales (now King Edward VII.) in 1860, he was in command of No. 5 Company of the Second Battalion, which acted as Guard of Honor. In June, 1904, he became a member of the York Pioneers. He was related to several of the older families of this city, the late James E. Ellis and Sheriff J. D. Merritt being brothers-in-law. His son, Sidney A. Paterson, predeceased him by one week. The Master called, death came, and he passed over to the great majority.

Obituary

Jonathan Slater

The late Mr. Slater was to the Manor born, having first seen the light at Buttonville, Markham Township. He was a sturdy farmer, and showed his intelligence by advanced farming on a scientific basis. He soon developed into a leader of men, and took an active part in everything that had a tendency to uplift the farming profession. His fellow citizens asked him to run as Reeve of Markham Township, which he did, and year after year triumphantly headed the poll. He became a York Pioneer in February, 1906, and remained a member up to his death. The summons came for him on the 20th of May, 1908, and he passed away.

Allan McLean Howard

The late Mr. Howard was born on Richmond Street, in this city, on May 7th, 1825, and died at his home, 104 Jameson Avenue, on the 22nd of May, 1908. He came from the good old U. E. Loyalist stock. He was educated in the old Home District Grammar School. He was appointed Division Court Clerk in May, 1854, holding the position for 53 years, and making him the oldest Division Court Clerk in the Province. Mr. Howard became a York Pioneer in October, 1870. He could trace the development from "Muddy York" of 1825 up to the great City of Toronto in 1908. He was the possessor of vast quantities of property in and around Toronto. But the wheels of life became clogged, and he ceased at once to work—and live.

Joseph Collard

Joseph Collard was an estimable citizen of Toronto. For many years he was one of the leading meat supply men of this city, and was known throughout the Province of Ontario. He stood very high in his own immediate neighborhood for his sterling qualities of unflinching integrity and honest, square dealing. He united with the York Pioneers on May 5th, 1908. His end was touching; he went into a neighboring store, suddenly he fell to the floor, and before those around him could pick him up the vital spark had fled and he was dead. How important to be always ready, for in "such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh."

Charles A. Cooper

Mr. Cooper was one of Toronto's public-spirited citizens. He was born in 1840 in the Township of Stanley, County of Huron, and died in Toronto on the 7th of June, 1908. He was an old and respected resident of this city, having lived here during the last twenty-one years. He united with the York Pioneers in February, 1906. Mr. Cooper was an energetic and successful member of the Upper Canada Bible Society, and of the Queen City Bowling and Curling Club. He was a son of the late Rev. H. C. Cooper, Rector of Etobicoke, Weston and Mimico for upwards of thirty years. God called and he was no more, for the Lord had taken him.

Obituary

John Nunn

He was Chaplain, Founder, and first President of the Army and Navy Veterans, Loyalist and Imperialist. Born in Great Britain in 1840, on the 12th of October, 1857, he enlisted in the 16th Bedfordshire Regiment of Foot. Four years later he bade farewell to his native Isle and came to Canada. His regiment was sent forward in 1866 to repel the Fenian Invasion, and for which he was rewarded with a '66 medal. He became a York Pioneer in January, 1906. Mr. Nunn was twice married, and leaves a widow, one son and five daughters to mourn their loss. Stricken with disease, he sank, and on the 10th of June, 1908, passed over to the great majority.

Harry A. Collins

The late Mr. Collins was a remarkably fluent speaker, and was often spoken of as the "silver-tongued orator." He was born at Thurles, County Tipperary, Ireland, in 1844, and was educated in Dublin. He came to Canada at the age of seventeen, when he entered the employ of Messrs. A. R. McMaster & Bro. He was prominent in many societies. He became a York Pioneer in November, 1907. He was Grand Potentate of the Mystic Shriners, Past Grand Master of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows, a member of the A.O.U.W., the Royal Arcanum, and of the Independent Order of Oddfellows. He was a leading member of the I.O.F., and was elected Supreme Treasurer. He was for years a sufferer from a chronic complaint, and for two days before his death was unconscious. He gradually sank, and on the 20th of June, 1908, went to his eternal state.

Walter H. Blight

In the death of Walter H. Blight, Toronto loses one of its best known and most energetic sons. He was born at Quebec in 1848, and when four years of age came with his parents to Toronto. When a young man he became clerk in Hewitt's hardware store, at the corner of Yonge and Adelaide Streets. He afterwards entered the employ of Rice Lewis & Co., with whom he continued for twenty-five years. In 1896 he became the Toronto representative of the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Co., which position he held up to the time of his death. He united with the York Pioneers in October, 1906. He was patriotic. When the Fenian troubles broke out in 1866 he was in Chicago, and at once organized a company of Canadians to come over and assist in driving the invaders back. He held high positions in Masonic circles, being a 32° Scottish Rite Mason; was Past Master of Rehoboam Lodge, etc., etc. The Master called him, and on the 27th of June, 1908, he went home to the presence of his God and the enjoyment of the Divine favor forever.

Rev. Canon Baldwin

A good man has been called away. Canon Baldwin was ordained in York Minster, by the Archbishop of York, in 1866, was made priest in 1867, and Curate of Christ Church, Sutton, Beds., England, and later occupied the same position in St. Thomas Church, Belleville, Ont. In 1872 he was appointed Rector of All Saints, Toronto. Canon Baldwin was Chaplain of the Royal Grenadiers, of which regiment he held the position of Hon. Major since 1906. Canon Baldwin was the first Chaplain appointed permanently in time of peace to any regiment of Canadian Militia, and was therefore senior military Chaplain for Canada. He was greatly beloved by all who knew him. For some time he was troubled with his heart. His death was sudden. He had performed a wedding ceremony the day before, and was planning to go with his regiment the following week to Quebec; but the Lord willed it otherwise, for at 1.30 a.m., July 15th, 1908, he entered into sweet rest, "to be forever with the Lord."

Obituary

George Coleman

Mr Coleman, who was a pioneer baker, confectioner and restaurateur, died on Nov. 23rd in his eighty-third year, having been born in 1826 at Ipswich, England. In 1852 he commenced business at 69 King Street West. He was largely patronized by the students of Upper Canada College and the regular soldiers from the Barracks. His place became an institution, and Toronto soon knew him intimately. Among other things, it was not only an eating-house, but a club-house, where many of the prominent men of to-day gathered to drink their coffee and settle the fate of nations, as young men did a generation or two ago. Among many others he numbered Sir Wm. Mortimer Clark among his patrons, when he was a rising young barrister. He became a York Pioneer in December, 1907. He was also a member of St. George's Society. His death was sudden. In the morning he ate his breakfast as usual, and at 2.30 o'clock p.m., through heart failure, passed away.

Charles E. Kyle

The late Mr. Kyle was born at Thornhill in 1849, and died at his home, 166 Jarvis Street, Toronto, on Sunday, December 27th, 1908. He was a prominent and successful business man, making principle of duty, and doing right because God required it. For four years he was connected with Kyle & Hooper, Grocery Brokers. For seventeen years he was in business with H. P. Eckhardt under the name of Eckhardt, Kyle & Co. For two years he was President of the Commercial Travellers' Association. He became a member of the York Pioneers in April, 1901. He was a member of the Central Methodist Church and of the I.O.O.F. He had an operation for intestinal trouble, from which he never rallied, but gradually sank, and in a few hours had passed "within the veil, the glories there to see," and possess Heaven forever.

George Jackson

George Jackson was one of the most upright, honest and true men that the County of York ever produced. Born on the 9th of January, 1835, he spent nearly the whole of his life at Downsview, in the Township of York. He was a man of irreproachable reputation and sterling character. He was one of the noble farming pioneers of York County, and saw the wonderful development, from the dense woods of the 70 years ago to the cultivated, wealthy and populous Township of to-day. He joined the York Pioneers in June, 1903, and was faithful in attending the meetings of the Society. About five or six years ago he came to the city and made his home with his daughter and son-in-law, W. J. McDonald, at 92 Roxboro West, where he died, full of honors and full of hope, on January 6th, 1909.

Obituary

John Small

The late Mr. Small was born in the Township of York on the 31st of October, 1831. He belonged to an old Toronto family. His grandfather, Major Small, came to this country with Governor Simcoe, and erected the house, upwards of one hundred years ago, in which Mr. John Small lived and died. He became a York Pioneer in August, 1870, and a life member of the Society in 1902. For twenty-five years he was taxing officer in the Court of Queen's Bench. He took a deep interest in political matters, and was elected to the House of Commons at the General Elections of 1882 and 1887. He was also a member of the Toronto City Council in 1887, 1888 and 1889. In 1891 Mr. Small retired from politics and became Collector of Customs for the Port of Toronto, and held the position up to the time of his death. He was stricken with paralysis a few days before his death, and lingered until February 10th, 1909, when he sweetly slept away.
